Section 1.02. Recovery of Possession; Defenses.

Section 1.03.

The person complaining shall file a complaint with the tribal judge or other official designated by the Tribal Council, describing the premises of which possession is claimed, stating the facts which

The judge shall thereupon issue a summons, commanding the person against whom such complaint is made to appear on a day and at a place in such summons named, which shall not be less than three, nor more than ten days from the day of issuing same. A copy of the complaint shall be attached to the summons, which shall state that it is so attached and that the original has been filed.

Section 1.04.

It shall be a defense to an action for recovery of premises following the alleged termination of a tenancy by notice to quit for the defendant to prove by a fair preponderance of the evidence that:

Section 1.042.

No restitution shall be made under this Section of any lands, buildings, houses and premises of which the party complained of, or his ancestor, or those under whom he holds the premises, have been in quiet possession for three years next before the filing of the complaint, after the determination of the leasehold estate that he may have had therein.

Section 1.07.

The judge, using discretion, may adjourn the trial, but not beyond six days after the return day, unless by consent of parties; but in all cases mentioned in Section 1.02, except in an action upon a written lease signed by both parties thereto, if the defendant, his agent or attorney shall make oath that he cannot safely proceed to trial for want of a material witness, naming him and that he has made due exertion to obtain the witness and believes that, if such adjournment be allowed, he will be able to procure the attendance of such witness at the trial or his deposition and shall give bond conditioned to pay to the plaintiff all rent which may accrue during the pendency of the action and all costs and damages consequent upon such adjournment, the judge shall adjourn the trial for such time as may appear necessary, not exceeding three months.

The judge shall issue execution in favor of the plaintiff for such costs and also immediately issue a writ of restitution. No stay of the writ of restitution may be granted except upon a showing by the defendant that the restitution would work a substantial hardship upon the defendant. Upon a proper showing by the defendant of substantial hardship, the judge may stay the writ of restitution for a reasonable period not to exceed seven days, except that no stay of the writ of restitution shall extend later than three days prior to the date the rent is next due.
